

ENGAGING FAMILIES & YOUNG ADULTS PROGRAM

The Engaging Families and Young Adults Program provides opportunities for young adults and family members, who have diverse backgrounds and life experiences, to inform the policies and practices of the organizations and systems which impact the communities they represent.

1. Family and young adult advisors

A diverse group of family members, and young adults ages 18-26, including those who have disabilities, ongoing healthcare considerations, and a variety of diversities, who wish to represent the communities they identify with, who are trained and placed by Diverse Ability Incorporated and/or Raising Special Kids.

Family and Young Adult Advisors receive training before being matched with organizations and systems, who want to involve these experts within their frameworks.

2. Receive Training

3. Placement agency

After receiving training from the Engaging Families and Young Adults Program, young adults and family members are placed within organizations and systems where their lived experience is applied in a variety of ways, leading to more equitable outcomes.

The level of engagement is customizable, and can be adapted over time. The hope is that organizations and systems will recognize the contributions of Family and Young Adult Advisors as integral to their success, and will wonder how they ever did whatever they do, without these experts aboard.

4. Meaningful Impact
